

Open Mind

The skill of Open Mind helps a cat to think in different ways. This essential skill gives a cat in the city the ability to stay calm while looking for solutions to the many challenges their new surroundings create for them. As a result, a cat can solve problems and adapt to the new and dangerous situations they will find themselves in.

Awareness

The skill of Awareness helps a cat to notice everything that is happening around it. This essential skill gives a cat in the city the ability to use its senses to gather vital information about its surroundings at all times. Due to this, a cat can spot danger before it arrives and stay one step ahead of any threat.

Hunting

The skill of Hunting helps a cat to catch food and defend itself from danger. This essential skill gives a cat in the city the ability to move quietly and wait patiently for exactly the right moment to strike. It never rushes towards its prey, which means it can find the food it needs to survive and keep itself safe from harm.

Slow-Time

The skill of Slow-Time helps a cat to focus its mind completely in moments of danger. This essential skill gives a cat in the city the ability to slow its thoughts so that everything around it seems to move more slowly. When this happens, a cat has far more time to dodge attacks and avoid the many dangers of city life.

Moving Circles

The skill of Moving Circles helps a cat to fight back while keeping itself in constant motion. This essential skill gives a cat in the city the ability to keep moving around its enemies so that they cannot predict where it will be next. A cat in constant motion is far harder to surround, so enemies struggle to land a successful attack.

Shadow-Walking

The skill of Shadow-Walking helps a cat to travel through the city without being seen. This essential skill gives a cat in the city the ability to stay completely silent and use the darkness of shadows as cover. By moving in this way, a cat can avoid enemies entirely and pass through even the most dangerous parts of the city undetected.

Trust Yourself

The skill of Trust Yourself helps a cat to believe in its own abilities, even when fear takes hold. This essential skill gives a cat in the city the ability to rely on its instincts and the training it has received from Jalal. It is the most difficult skill to master, which is why a cat that truly trusts itself can face any danger and make the decisions that will keep it alive.